

Resilient Strategic Planning Toolkit for Worker Co-ops

There are many challenges for worker cooperatives, they affect our communities and the way we work, they also affect our decision process, our workflows and our mental health.

Resilience can come as a reactive natural process taking a toll on the individual's energy and mental health. In this workshop we are aiming to intentionally plan resilience, helping workers cooperatives to create actionable strategies to face different challenges, from shortage of workers to deliver the services, streamlining their processes, or accessing capital in times of distress.

Understanding and pre-evaluating the impact of different scenarios that affect your cooperatives should be a main component of your annual strategic planning. Join GIA consulting Cooperative and Realize Strategies to acquire tools to intentionally plan resiliency.

The workshop will deliver concepts based in Business Continuity Planning and Disaster Recovery including governance, decision making, analysis of different scenarios, at the end you will be equipped with a checklist toolkit to bring back to your cooperative and help you to intentionally plan resiliency.