There are many excuses not to vote but getting to the polling place isn't one.

In the Madison area, free rides to the polls are available via both Common Cause and Union Cab.

Union Cab is again offering gratis round-trip rides from a voter's place of residence to their polling place and back. The worker-owned company on its website touts the rides as part of its commitment to democracy.

"This is a non-partisan effort on the part of Union Cab," the cab company says. "Our interest is to help people in our community exercise their right to vote."
